Greetings

AND WELCOME TO FAITH!

You are coming to participate in a Global Reach Conference whose heart cry is, "Show Us Your Glory." No form of motivation for selfless service can exceed that of a sustained gaze into the beauty and wonder of our Lord Jesus Christ. He is our reason for soldiering on in the raging battle for the souls of those created in the image of God.

We are asking our guests to share ways that God has manifested His glory through their ministries. We are asking our students to look for evidence of God's glory through the activities of the week. Above all, we are asking God to make His glory abundant as we gather to honor the Lord of the harvest and the commission He has committed to our trust.

We are soldiers marching to the drumbeat of the God whose glory is our destination. So, let's make much of Him this week, working together to magnify the infinite greatness of the One to whom every creature will one day ascribe "blessing and honor and glory and might forever and ever!" (Rev. 5:13)

For God's Glory,

Dr. Mark Lounsbrough
World Missions Chair

Wednesday Workshops

Serving God in the Ordinary

Debbie Gibbons — Gospel Mission of South America — GMSA

NETTLETON 103/104 Reflections of a wife and mother in missionary service.

Reclaiming His Glory in the Church

Chip Wood — Baptist Church Planters

NETTLETON 105 Over the last decade, thousands of churches have closed their doors across America. There is one common denominator missing from each of them. This is not God's fault; His plan is perfect. Come explore the beauty of God's original design and how you can foster health in any church where you serve.

Missions in the Buddhist World

Nathan Beckman — Baptist Mid-Missions/Thailand

NETTLETON CHAPEL Understanding the needs, the challenges, the beliefs, and the blessings of reaching Buddhists for Christ.

Reaching Hindus For Christ

Joshua Borra — Association of Baptists for World Evangelism

NETTLETON 108 Joshua Borra is from India and specializes in reaching Hindus for Christ. Evangelism is a primary focus of Joshua's life, and he currently shares the gospel on the University of California's campus with Indians and international students. He is working with ABWE to write material on reaching Hindus.

Measuring Personal Readiness For Ministry

David McCrum — Biblical Ministries Worldwide

DOMOKOS 125 Whether you are pursuing full-time, marketplace, or mercy ministry, this session will identify the six basic areas of preparation and provide suggestions for how to pursue God's glory by fulfilling God's calling. Connect who you are with what you do as you humbly acknowledge God's enabling grace in your life.

Innovate: How to Prepare For Marketplace Ministry in Creative Access Nations

Jamie Smith — Indigenous Biblical Ministries Global-IBMGlobal

GRAY 101 Three billion unreached people reside in creative access countries. To advance the gospel, we must engage in marketplace ministry. Most who attempt such ministry are skilled either in business or cross-cultural ministry, yet both are required. This workshop provides a roadmap for the aspiring marketplace minister to prepare for success.

The Non-Romans Road

Shalom Ministries

GRAY 102 We will take a look at the meaning of the gospel and what truths we need to explain when proclaiming the gospel. We will discuss the passages in the Old Testament that explain these truths so we will be able to share the truth of Jesus the Messiah with our Jewish friends.

My Culture's Influence in Cross-Cultural Church Planting

Tom Gibbons — Gospel Mission of South America – GMSA

GRAY 104 This seminar considers the influence of North American culture and the Christian church culture in church planting abroad. The objective is to produce awareness of a reality that every missionary will face to some degree upon arriving in the host country.

They Can't Hear! So, What?

Jim Sloan — COME International

GRAY 107 God called me to work with the deaf in July 1956. After many ministries reaching the deaf here in the States, in January 1993, God gave me a whole new ministry of reaching the deaf all over the world. Sign language is NOT universal! Each country has its own sign language. The deaf in the States and in foreign countries have been ignored by churches and missionaries. Workers are needed!

Thursday Workshops

Mrs. Missionary, What Do You Do All Day?

Charlene Giegerich — Baptist Mid-Missions/CBF

NETTLETON 103/104 My personal testimony attests to how God equips those He calls to do His work. We will also discover from Mary and Martha how doing life with Jesus rather than for Jesus helps avoid burnout from doing all the various things that a missionary wife does all day.

The Steps to Becoming a Missionary: Where Are You in the Process?

Alan Patterson — Gospel Fellowship Association

NETTLETON 105 Many college students admire missionaries but are unsure about what it takes to become one. In this workshop, we will look at typical questions and steps in the process. This will enable you to discern where you are and how to move forward.

What Languages Did Jesus Speak?

Troy Manning — Bibles International

NETTLETON CHAPEL Considering that Latin, Greek, Hebrew, and Aramaic were spoken in the Mediterranean world during the time of Jesus, what language did He use to reach people's hearts? Explore clues in the NT and in history that help us understand better how Jesus made sure His hearers understood His message.

Medical Missions: Who Has Your Heart?

Dr. Steve Taylor — Medical Missions Outreach

DOMOKOS 125 God calls every Christian to have a heart for souls, but it starts with answering this question: Who has YOUR heart?

Stories of Surrender: Ordinary Stories of God's Work

Travis Gravley — Baptist Mid-Missions/Global Ministry Center

GRAY 101 When someone surrenders their life to whatever God wants, it starts with coming to terms with the truth that applies to every believer: "I am not my own. I am bought with a price." Through brief biographical sketches of ordinary missionaries, we will examine how God's working through our life circumstances, coupled with our surrender to Christ, leads to His glory proclaimed among the nations according to His powerful working.

Three P's of Missions

Mike Keller — Baptist Mid-Missions/CBF

GRAY 102 Prior to his conversion, the Apostle Paul was zealous about many things. However, his zeal pertained only to the temporal. Much of what he was pursuing would not last. After his conversion to Christ, Paul's purpose, passion, and priority were radically changed. Paul now wanted "to know Christ and make him known." In this workshop, we will explore the core structure for serving in missions.

The Shared Priorities of God's Glory

Paul Pierce — Friends of Israel

GRAY 104 The priorities and delight in exalting the greatness of God through the Great Commission is reflected in proclaiming the gospel and making disciples among Jews and Gentiles.

They Can't Hear! So, What?

Jim Sloan — COME International

GRAY 107 God called me to work with the deaf in July 1956. After many ministries reaching the deaf here in the States, in January 1993, God gave me a whole new ministry of reaching the deaf all over the world. Sign language is NOT universal! Friday Workshops

Should I Stay or Should I Go?

Jeff Davis — EMU International

NETTLETON 103/104 You were created for a purpose bigger than you ever imagined. We hear a lot about missions, but do we really understand what that means? Is every Christian really a missionary? Let's connect the dots and help you discover your place in God's plan to reach the nations.

World Influencers (Matt. 13:51-53)

Joe Humrichous — Bible Prayer Fellowship

NETTLETON 105 Learn from the words of Jesus how the simple stewardship of truth transforms lives into secure, wealthy, and generous missionaries. Learn how ministry becomes a great adventure even into the golden years. Where did it start and where did it go?

Ladies Panel

NETTLETON CHAPEL Ladies! Come and hear answers to your questions from women with ministry experience and godly counsel.

God's Glory Displayed in Dispatching Chaplains to Restricted Access Institutions

CH Steve Brown — Associated Gospel Churches

DOMOKOS 125 It is for the glory of God alone that Pastors-in-Uniform (Chaplains) hazard their lives to bring the gospel to millions of men and women serving in restricted access institutions, and it is the glory of God revealed in that gospel that transforms sinful and broken people into the image of Christ. This workshop will highlight the selfless work and incredible opportunities of Chaplains and report on the great gospel successes in their work (Jn. 1:14; 2:11; 1 Cor. 10:31).

Re-examining Our Preaching: Proclaiming the Excellencies of Christ

Steve Anderson — Baptist Mid-Missions/Global Ministries Center

GRAY 101 Weaknesses in the pulpit always foster weaknesses in the church. In this workshop, Steve Anderson will be examining our practice, purpose, and priority in preaching, with an emphasis on preaching Christ through the whole council of God. This is less of a homiletics primer than it is a call to action for those engaged in or preparing for pulpit ministry with the aim of establishing a healthy philosophy of pulpit ministry for the sake of the health of the local church.

The Birth of a Church

Brad Hoff — Continental Baptist Mission

GRAY 102 A look at how God brings local churches into existence both in Scripture and in ministry today.

Developing the Heart of a Missionary - Embodying the Gospel

Jeff Newman — Baptist Mid-Missions/Soul Care

GRAY 104 What does the heart of a missionary look like? How does such a heart develop? How can God use that heart for His glory? We will learn answers from Paul as he opens his heart in 2 Thessalonians, sharing with us three primary focuses that demonstrate his missionary heart.

They Can't Hear! So, What?
